

A clear solution for farmers

CATCHMENT SENSITIVE FARMING

Join Catchment Sensitive Farming at this FREE event

Managing Rainfall and Runoff in the Farmyard

Tuesday 11th February 2020

10:00am – 1:00pm

Crickle Farm, East Marton, Skipton, BD23 3JD

By Kind Permission of Bob Lancaster

This event aims to highlight practical and cost effective steps you can take to better manage rainfall and runoff in the farmyard.

Including:

- Benefits of sustainably managing yard waters
- Separating clean and dirty water
- Updates on latest legislation (NVZ, SSAFO, Farming Rules for Water)
- Grant funding opportunities

PLEASE WEAR SUITABLE CLOTHING AND FOOTWEAR FOR A FARM WALK

Please book your FREE place via

Telephone: 08453 713399

Email: bookings@adas.co.uk

When booking please give your name, address, phone number, CPH & SBI number

For more information about the event please contact your local CSFO Kathryn McKendrick-Smith 07827 552662 or Email: Kathryn.McKendrick-Smith@naturalengland.org.uk

Your data is only used by us so we can email, call, write or text you about our Catchment Sensitive Farming work. This will include advice, access to grants, events and campaigns.

You can change your communication preferences by emailing us on catchmentsensitivedfarming@naturalengland.org.uk

Our Information Charter is at <http://bit.ly/naturalenglandinfo>

Our Privacy Notice is at <http://bit.ly/privacysf>

Catchment Sensitive Farming (CSF) is delivered in partnership by Natural England, the Environment Agency and Defra.

